MOTTO:

FOR MUSICIANS - BY MUSICIANS

What we do (and what we certainly don't)

Our primary business is live recording and filming.

We come to your gig. We film and record your band and your audience.

We mix your music and edit the film, you'll get a rocksolid copy of your gig to relive over and over.

We also help out with duplication, artwork and still photos.

Instead of having you drag all your gear into the studio, we can record at your gig or rehearsal, on your schedule, where you already are. But our studio is nice too.

We do documentaries, on tour, in the studio or whatever you need.

What we certainly don't do:

We're musicians, not A&R people, executives, managers or agents.

We won't try to sell you stuff you don't need or want.

We won't promise results that we can't realistically deliver.

We won't keep your recordings or retain any rights to them.

We won't talk you into spending 100 hours mixing your single, because we'd like to still have time to play some music ourselves, and we'd like you to be able to afford to keep making your music.

Do you have a gig coming up that you think is worth recording?

Do you have a great band, but you haven't done a demo yet?

You bring the talent, and we help you create the package.
